

SHORT SUNDAY HOURS FOR THE DRUGGISTS

Ministerial Association Wants the Pharmacists to be Good.

COUGHT TO ATTEND CHURCH

Instead of Rolling Pills and Filling Prescriptions Sunday Morning—Important Meeting of the Association Tuesday Afternoon.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association was held Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock in the Methodist parsonage. Among other important matters discussed was that of securing shorter hours in which the druggists would be compelled to remain open on Sundays, so that they could attend church services.

It was shown that the druggists were perfectly willing to enter into an arrangement to confine themselves to certain hours of work on the Sabbath, but it was made plain that there was a fear one or two of the physicians would enter an objection to being limited to any given time for their prescriptions to be filled. It was therefore resolved that a paper be presented to all of the practicing physicians for their signatures and in this way show there were none unwilling to grant their fellow-men church privileges on Sundays.

W. C. Hague Was Exonerated for Shooting Will Hunter.

The coroner's jury which sat upon the case of the killing of Will Hunter by Officer W. C. Hague at Hague Tuesday while resisting arrest, mention of which was made in The Sun, has returned a verdict to the effect that the killing was justifiable, since Officer Hague was protecting his own life. Chas. B. Dell was foreman of the jury which was composed of a half-dozen of the best citizens of that section. The evidence was carefully weighed.

Mr. Hague, who was hit four times by Hunter, is reported resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances. While his wounds are painful, they are not considered serious, and the attending physicians say he is entirely out of danger.

QUICK TRIAL IN MISSISSIPPI.

Negro Indicted, Tried and Sentenced in Less Than Five Hours.

Jackson, Miss., July 12.—At Hazelhurst this morning Judge Miller convened a special term of the circuit court to try Jim Collins, a negro, charged with attempted criminal assault.

The grand jury was impaneled at 9 o'clock and returned an indictment in an hour against Collins, who was brought into court, plead guilty and was given the limit of the law—ten years—and in less than five hours after court assembled, was on his way to the penitentiary.

Collins was saved from a mob some weeks ago by Judge Miller promising to convene a special term of the court to try the negro who attempted a criminal assault on Miss Hogg, the daughter of a prominent Copiah county farmer.

From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at all drug stores; price 50c.

The work of marketing the lumber will begin at once, and plans are being consummated, it is said, for developing valuable mineral deposits on the property.
